

HENRY CLAY BEATTIE, JR. CHARGED WITH MURDER OF BEAUTIFUL YOUNG WIFE

Murder Mystery Surpasses the Thaw Case in Interest and Excites Comment all Over the Country

TALE OF LOVE AND DEATH TOLD BY BEULAH BINFORD

Was Intimate With Young Husband Who Furnished Her Money and Educated Her in Southern School---Tells Tale of Wrecked Life and Would Rather Die Herself Than See Lover go to the Electric Chair.

Richmond, Va., July 22.—Light-hearted and debonaire, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., today sat in the Richmond jail, smoked his cigarette and laid plans for defending himself of the charge of wife murder.

Over in the pretty Beattie home in Manchester, the father of the man arrested for the murder of his young wife, tenderly cared for his five weeks' old grandson—the only member of the family now left with him. The baby's mother was shot to death and its father was in jail. The aged father, banker, businessman and respected citizen has been the person most affected by the dramatic denouement arranged by the police out of the Beattie murder mystery. The son has never been shaken out of his role of calm indifference, but the father has aged ten years in the last four days. Not since Evelyn Nesbit Thaw astonished New York with the history of her life has there been told a story that surpasses the tale of love and death told by Beulah Binford, the petite 17-year-old other woman in the case. For four years she has been intimately connected with the life of the young scion of the south who today languishes in the Richmond jail. She testified that when she was barely fifteen she mothered a boy, the son of Beattie. Prior to that time she said Beattie gave her money for an education at St. Mary's school, Alexandria.

In a low voice, suppressed with emotion, the girl told of agreeing to leave Richmond when Beattie was married. Four weeks ago, she said, she met the husband in Norfolk by accident. Then the old longing seized her and she came to Richmond. For four weeks prior to the murder of Mrs. Beattie she testified that she had been meeting Beattie in various hotels and rooming houses. She declared she had arranged to set up a home of her own in Richmond so that she could be near Beattie and testified that the husband had given her $10 as the first installment on purchase of furniture for it. The whole secret of Beulah Binford's wrecked life trembled on her lips when in answer to the demands: "Do you love Henry Beattie?" she exclaimed: "Rather than see him go to the electric chair, I would confess that I killed his wife myself." A gnawing conscience, and the insistence of a woman, developed the information that resulted in Beattie's dramatic arrest yesterday. Paul C. Beattie, the accused man's cousin, had told his wife that he bought the gun for the husband of the murdered woman. He did not tell her, however, until his conscience had driven him to the verge of nervous hysteria.

Because his conscience cried out, he told his wife of the link in the chain of evidence which the police were forging against his cousin.

Mrs. Beattie and Paul Beattie's conscience persuaded him to tell the story to the police. Then the man collapsed. He recovered slightly at the city hospital today and was able to take the witness stand at the inquest. He will probably be the only witness called when Coroner Loving reconvenes the hearing this afternoon.

Beattie's aged father bowed in tearless grief at his home, bolstered up his faith in his son when he received the following message from the boy in the Richmond jail: "Father, There is no truth in the story told by Paul Beattie that I had him buy that gun."

At a conference of lawyers for the prosecution this afternoon it was decided to withhold from the inquest all but the testimony that is absolutely necessary. Guarded by two score policemen and carried from his hospital bed to the home of the coroner, Paul Beattie, this afternoon identified the shot gun with which the police assert Mrs. Beattie was shot. He swore that he bought it at a pawn shop at the request of the accused man while he waited around the corner. Following his testimony Paul Beattie half crazed with fear and a nervous wreck threw up his hands and fainted.

Many times during the day the police feared it would be impossible to prevent violence by the crowd as the feeling was intense. Half a dozen autos were kept in readiness by the detectives in which they intended to rush the accused man to the jail at the first sign of violence.

STATE OF TEXAS TODAY VOTING ON PROHIBITION

Austin, Texas, July 22.—Early reports from half a dozen of the larger cities of Texas show heavy balloting on the constitutional amendment providing state-wide prohibition and leaders of both wet and dry factions admitted today the result would be close. The fight in the state was one of the fiercest ever fought over an issue largely political. Governor Q. B. Colquitt opposed the amendment in addresses in all part of the state and because of his stand on this question the Methodist church of the South led the governor out of its organization.

COMPELLED BOY TO FIGHT BEASTS FOR SPECTATORS

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—Charges were preferred with the state board of control against the officers of a circus company, who are accused of gross mistreatment of a six-year-old boy, whom they compel, it is alleged, to enter a cage of seven hyenas and

WAR VETERAN TIRED OF LIFE SHOTS SELF THROUGH THE HEAD

William Eswein, aged 65 years, a Civil war veteran, took his own life at his hermit home near Etna Friday, after worrying over domestic difficulties and financial troubles for several weeks. He purchased a new Iver Johnson revolver in Columbus and went to his home where he fired one bullet into his head, dying instantly.

Eswein has been an unfortunate victim of domestic trouble for a quarter of a century. His wife, whom he married 26 years ago, left him after three months and a short time ago she applied for divorce and named the pension department as a co-defendant, it being her desire to get a portion of his pension. The government withheld half of the amount due until the case was settled. This caused him to brood over his troubles until he decided to end the whole matter.

He sought advice from his brother, Henry Eswein, and stayed Thursday night at his home. Friday morning he asked for the loan of a gun, saying that he wanted to shoot rats. Fearing that his brother's despondency might lead him to commit a rash act, Henry refused and took the precaution to conceal all fire arms. His brother went to Columbus and returned Friday at 11 o'clock. This

TWELVE YEAR OLD BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLS HIS YOUNGER BROTHER

A bullet from a 22-calibre Flobert rifle in the hands of a twelve-year-old brother, instantly killed Cornelius Felumlee, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Felumlee, residing about three miles west of Newark, just off the Hebron road, early Friday evening.

The two boys, Cornelius and Orville, were in the front part of the Felumlee home examining the rifle about 6 o'clock Friday evening, and Mrs. Felumlee was in the kitchen clearing away the supper table. She heard the gun discharged and ran to the living room where she found the younger boy writhing on the floor and the gun still smoking in the hands of Orville.

Hurry calls were sent to Dr. J. W. Hornby and Dr. D. M. Smith, the latter reaching the home first, but death had claimed its victim, the lad living only a few minutes. The bullet entered the left side between the seventh fight with the boys for the amusement of their parents.

If he refused to enter the cage or made an outcry while battling with the brutes, he is said to have been taken to the dressing tents. The show is now playing at Litchfield, Minn., but when state officials reached there they found that advance information evidently had reached the ears of the custodian of the child and that both the child and the man had disappeared. The show officials stated that the boy with his "parents" had been discharged for incompetency. Yet there was never a "mother" in sight about the circus.

THE HARMON SENTIMENT DOWN EAST

Washington, July 22.—Lieutenant-Governor Hugh Nichols of Ohio, manager of the Harmon Presidential boom, arrived in Washington last night. The Lieutenant-Governor has been way down East, down as far as the rock-bound coast of Maine, not in search of cooling breezes, but looking for Harmon sentiment.

He reports with as much enthusiasm as his calm demeanor will permit that everything is Harmon in the New England settlements. He declares that the old Pine Tree State will be for Ohio's Governor not only in the nominating convention, but on election day. Mr. Nichols believes that with the Governor or as the candidate, Maine will for the first time since, oh, ever so long ago, cast her electoral vote for the Democratic candidate.

This is some optimism, but Mr. Nichols puts up a mighty strong argument to support his contention. The Lieutenant-Governor is looking after the thing up of the Democrats of the state for the Governor and to get the Maine delegation. The election will take care of itself, for next year is destined, he believes, to be a big Democratic year, a regular old-fashioned Democratic harvest, if Governor Harmon is permitted to be the reaper.

WAR VETERAN TIRED OF LIFE SHOTS SELF THROUGH THE HEAD

was the last seen of him until his dead body was found by William T. Hagy. Eswein occupied a small house on Hagy's farm.

Eswein's body lay across a couch and a bullet hole in his head with the new revolver at his side told a mute story of the tragedy. The gun was a 38-calibre Iver Johnson make and was new. But one chamber had been fired and this contained the empty cartridge shell which had caused his death. The hole in his head was as large as a man's thumb and blood and brains were spattered on the wall back of the couch. A full box of cartridges was found near the bed.

Besides his wife, one daughter survives, a Mrs. James Lyons, who lives north of Columbus. The funeral services will be held Sunday at Pataskala, Ohio.

Eswein served in the federal army, being a member of the 76th O. V. I. He sustained a scalp wound in an engagement in the war and had drawn a pension of $12 a month for the past three years.

Coroner Wylarch was called and hurried to the scene of the tragedy and after taking testimony and viewing the body and the surroundings he announced that his verdict would be "death from gunshot wounds, self-inflicted with suicidal intent."

FIVE GENERATIONS OF IMHOFF FAMILY

Include in the group is Mrs. Elizabeth Imhoff of Baker street, with her son, granddaughter, great grandson, and great-great-grandson. Mrs. Imhoff is 85 years of age. The others are her son Samuel Imhoff, Sr., his daughter, Mrs. Jennie Grimm, her son, Fred Grimm and the latter's thirteen months' old son, Master Charles Grimm.

CANADIAN RECIPROCITY PASSES SENATE 53 TO 27 TAFT TO SIGN WEDNESDAY

Washington, July 22.—President Taft's pet project, the Canadian reciprocity agreement, went through the senate this afternoon without amendment by a vote of 53 to 27. With the signature of the president expected to be added next Wednesday, the agreement will become a law and the legislation for which the extra session of congress was needed will be completed.

The climax of the legislation came today when the Underwood bill, making effective the Canadian compact was passed through the final stages in the senate.

By a vote of 23 to 58, amendments by Nelson, (Republican), of Minnesota, to place duties on grain, butters, cheese, horses, cattle and sheep, which are on the free list of the agreement, were rejected.

In rapid succession the senate then voted down the amendments by Senator Simmons, (Dem.), of North Carolina, to place meat and meat products, wheat and rice, flour and prepared cereal foods on the free list.

A proposition to reduce by 40 per cent the duties on the Payne-Aldrich law on structural steel offered by Cummins, (Rep.), of Iowa, was defeated.

La Follette's wool amendment was defeated by a vote of 16 to 64.

Another amendment by La Follette for free wood pulp and print paper after Jan. 1, 1912, was defeated 11 to 67.

The amendment by Bailey, (Dem.), of Texas, to place on the free list agricultural implements, shoes and other leather goods was defeated 15 to 63.

Three Democrats and 54 Republicans voted against the bill.

Senators Pomerene and Burton of Ohio both placed their votes in favor of the agreement.

Senators Bailey of Texas, Clark of Arkansas, and Simmons of North Carolina, were the only three Democrats to cast their vote against the bill.

An amendment to require articles now in bond to pay present rates of duty, even if they are included in the free list, proposed by McCumber was voted down 21 to 54.

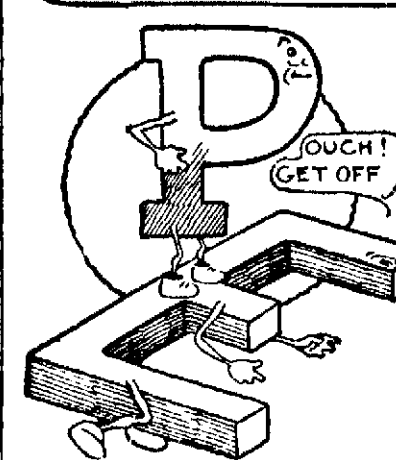

An amendment by Bristow to place a duty of 1 1-2 cents a pound on the lead in type metal and 15 per cent ad valorem on new types went down on the twelfth roll call 16 to 61.

Bailey's amendment to place cotton on the free list was defeated 17 to 62.

NEGRO CRAZED KILLS MANY

Big Springs, Ga., July 22.—Crazed because his wife left him, Charles Reese, a giant negro ran amuck here today, killing his wife, a negro from whom he borrowed a gun, a negro boy who did not flee quickly enough from his path and fatally wounded a white man who attempted to stop him. He then committed suicide.

Commercial Tribune Sold Under Hammer

Cincinnati, July 21.—The Commercial Tribune was sold under the hammer today by Sheriff Cooper to Francis T. Homer, an attorney of Baltimore, for $120,000, to satisfy claims of debt aggregating $446,500. Homer has had business relations in the east with John R. McLean, owner of the Enquirer, but he states that he bought the paper for himself.

The manager of Charles P. Taft's paper, as well as his nephew, attended the sale.

PRESIDENT GREETED OLD VETERANS

Meets With Blue and Gray in Love Feast at Manassas

HAD TEMPESTUOUS TRIP

Over Muddy Roads and Though Swollen Streams in Auto on Way from Washington.

Manassas, Va., July 22.—Mud-spattered, after a trip from Washington by automobile over flooded roads and swollen creeks, President Taft yesterday afternoon faced an audience made up in part of veterans who wore the blue and the gray, within a few miles of the scene of the first great conflict of the civil war, and was applauded and cheered when he made a plea for international peace.

The president declared that a general arbitration treaty both with Great Britain and with France probably would be signed within the next 10 days. He added he hoped with the next few days to announce that the three other great powers would enter into similar agreements with the United States. He did not go so far as to indicate the nations he had in mind, but it was generally believed he referred to Germany, Italy and the Netherlands.

Japan would ultimately come into the far reaching pact, but the negotiations with that empire are as yet said to be merely tentative.

President Taft reached Manassas late in the afternoon, after a tempestuous trip. It was so strenuous that the presidential party abandoned its motor cars here and returned to the capital by train. Mr. Taft laughingly likened his trouble in getting to Bull Run to those that some folks had 50 years ago in getting away.

"I brought some senators and representatives down with me from Washington," he said, "and because of the exigencies of the road and the storm and strife of the elements, we came far more slowly than some senators and representatives who came down here half a century ago and went back."

The president's trip from Washington to Manassas would have thrilled the heart of a moving picture man.

He left a trail of stranded automobiles in his wake, made a perilous voyage across streams out of their banks, stopped on his way to rescue a party of marooned senators—demanding votes for reciprocity as a reward—and plowed his way through rainstorms and mud and finally squeezed into this historic little village at sundown.

The car containing the secret service men which started bravely beside the president as he left the White House, held to the race gamely until within a few miles of the battlefield and then gave a despairing gasp and stopped in the middle of what once upon a time was a peaceful brook, but which had become a muddy torrent. This stream had daunted the courage of the president's chauffeur, who up to this time had successfully navigated three other fords. So the secret service car was sent ahead to test the depth of the water and died in the attempt to make the crossing. By making a detour the president managed to negotiate the stream at a stowed with the secret service men more shallow point.

Several of the rescued senators, after their automobile shipwrecked at an earlier ford, this time were left stranded with the declaration by the president that they were a lot of standpatters.

One of the White House stenographers, who had followed the president from coast to coast and from Puget Sound to the Gulf of Mexico, likewise was abandoned in mid-stream and Mr. Taft for the first time since he became chief magistrate of the nation, spoke without official record being made of his utterances.

When the presidential party started from Washington to attend the (Continued on Page 4, Col. 5.)

ONE THIRD OF CROWD WAS FROM NEWARK

ZANESVILLE - NEWARK GAME STOPPED IN THIRD BY A HEAVY RAIN.

Attendance is Poor, Only 366 Paid Admissions Being Recorded, Newark People Attend.

Terre Haute, 3; Dayton, 1.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 22.—Three games played yesterday between Terre Haute and Dayton, 3 to 1 yesterday, by hitting Wheeling in the pinches. Score: R. H. E. Terre Haute 10 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 7 2 Dayton 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 7 2 Batteries—Alberts and O'Brien; Wheeling—Lindsey and Holmes, Graham and Welcher.

Grand Rapids, 5; Wheeling, 3. Wheeling, W. Va., July 22.—Wheeling played ragged ball yesterday making eight errors, and lost to Grand Rapids, 5 to 3. Score: R. H. E. Grand Rapids 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 5 7 2 Wheeling 0 0 2 1 2 0 0 0 3 6 5 Batteries—Lindsey and Holmes, Graham and Welcher.

Evansville, 5; Fort Wayne, 4. Evansville, Ind., July 22.—Three two-base hits by Taylor, Cantwell and Byrnes in the ninth yesterday gave Evansville a 5 to 1 victory over Fort Wayne. Score: R. H. E. Evansville 10 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 9 1 Fort Wayne 0 0 1 0 0 2 1 0 0 4 5 1 Batteries—Stetzer and Dugger; Wacker and Onslow.

Zanesville, July 22.—After going two innings and a part of the third, rain interfered with the game here yesterday between Newark and Zanesville. Big Red Farrell of Zanesville scored in the second after driving a long hit to the outfield for three bases. He went home on an infield play, Pandey being unable to get the ball quickly enough to stop the man at the plate.

There were exactly 366 paid admissions at the game 127 of them being Newark people who traveled 27 miles, to see their team in action. This turnout of Zanesville people is a good average attendance. In this condition is found the reason why there is talk of transferring the franchise to South Bend.

Bemis started the game for Newark and was working nicely up to the time rain stopped the play. Haulley, a youngster who recently joined the local team was working on the mound for the Potters. He had plenty of smoke and good control, but his curve balls worked poorly. It was the opinion of those who saw the game that eventually the Newark sluggers would have found the young man and unless he was derided quickly the visitors would have won the game.

Each team had registered one hit each in the game, Newark's lone bingle counting for naught. The two teams are scheduled for a game this afternoon, and in all probability Bemis will start again for the visiting bunch. Gilbert may be called upon to face the Potters, though he will probably be saved for the Wheeling game.

REILLEY QUILTS ZANESVILLE

Crack Outfielder Discarded With Conditions Prevailing in Potter Town—Will Return to Buffalo

Zanesville, July 22.—Alex. Reilly, star outfielder for the Zanesville club, pumped the team yesterday and it is thought that he will return to his home in New York at once. Reilly stated that he was dissatisfied with conditions in general in Zanesville. He has been out of the game for some time, being troubled from blood poisoning but had recently returned to the game.

ZANESVILLE WILL RETAIN CLUB

Zanesville, July 22.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the local Central league club last night, it was decided to raise funds with which to insure the safety of the local franchise until the end of the season.

Attendance which was fair at the beginning of the season, has dropped so low during the past few weeks that the club has not near paid expenses and at times the attendance did not produce enough money to pay the $50 guarantee.

South Bend people asked for a price on the franchise and would have been glad to land the club if it had been placed on the market. The finances of the club have been looked after by a few of the directors, chief of whom is C. I. Shryock. He has devoted his entire time to making baseball a success in this city but his efforts have not been appreciated.

Matters came to a crisis when the directors announced that they would not personally put up funds to pay the expenses and that if the fans and stockholders wanted the club, they must come across with enough money to put the organization square with the world.

The Zanesville club is composed of a fast bunch of players and with ordinary encouragement would be leading the league today. No expense has been spared to get first class talent for the team but Potter fans did not warm up properly and things went from bad to worse. The transfer may yet be made if funds are not forthcoming.

INTERESTING BASEBALL DOPE

(Zanesville Times-Recorder.) President Carson had written that he expected to be in Zanesville this week. He seems to have had trouble that kept him away, as he has called an important meeting of the league for Columbus on next Monday.

The Newark people claim that the attendance for the 14 games in Newark was 14,000.

President Hamilton of the Newark club has blown into town to see the rest of the series. He was greatly disappointed when the game had to be called off yesterday.

South Bend has rejected Aggie Grant's demand for $8,000 for the Evansville franchise. Another proposal was made that South Bend should take the club for $6,000 and allow Grant 50 per cent of the money to be derived from the sale of players. Grant figuring the Pitchers Sterzer, Withers and Cantwell and First Baseman Grete are due to go to higher company at the close of the season.

The trials and tribulations of a Wheeling baseball manager would make a good book. Roy Montgomery, the Smoke pilot, has had more trouble holding a baseball club together this year than he ever had before in all his baseball experience. Monty is up against the proposition now of having a four-man pitching staff, and the chances of the Threefers climbing up in the race grow gloomier every day.

This condition of affairs is brought about through the illness of Pitcher Croft, the latest acquisition to the pitching department. Croft has gone to his home in Pennsylvania, and it is not probable that he will be seen in a Stogie uniform again this year. Efforts will be made to secure a new heavier to help out Beatty, Deak, Graham and Hardy.

"Lefty" Wilhelm, late of the Stogies, and Mum Warrender, formerly of the East Liverpool team have both been released by the Erie team of the O and P. league. "Lefty's" release was due to lack of control.

Both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Browns are after "Ducky" Holmes, the hard-working catcher of the Grand Rapids club. Holmes is one of the best throwing catchers in the league, and is hitting just now at .255, about 5 points higher than he batted last year.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

SUNDAY BALL AT EAST LIVERPOOL. East Liverpool, July 22.—Sunday baseball will be attempted here, despite Mayor Sam Crawford's objections. He is vice president and director of the club. He has announced that he will resign both positions if the team is used for this purpose. He will try to stop the contest. Mansfield is scheduled to play. Fans favor the move.

L. D. SMITH SELLS "HUT" FRANCHISE

Terre Haute, Ind., July 22.—The franchise of the local Central league club was sold last night to A. W. Wagner and W. A. Duncan, two Terre Haute business men who are said to be acting for Joe McGinty, of "Iron Man" fame and former big league player. John Somerlott, who has been acting as playing manager this season will continue in this capacity and as far as is known now, no transfer of the club is contemplated. Lewis D. Smith, formerly turned over the circuit as "Old Man Grump" has been having his troubles and it is claimed that some back salaries of players have never been paid.

WHEELING TEAM HERE FOR FOUR GAME SERIES; DOUBLE HEADER SUNDAY

At 1 o'clock this afternoon, it was decided to transfer the Wheeling series of games from that city to Wehrle Park, Newark. This decision was reached after Wheeling had declined to accept Newark's terms of agreement to the transfer. The river city folks wanted all the grand stand receipts and half the big gate receipts, but the Newark management refused to be held up.

Two games will be played tomorrow, Sunday afternoon, one on Monday and one Tuesday.

The transfer of these games will mean a saving of considerable money to Newark, besides giving the local fans a chance to see the Wheeling bunch in action. Every effort is being made to give the transfer as much publicity as possible to insure a good crowd.

CENTRAL LEAGUE MEETING MONDAY IN COLUMBUS

President George Hamilton has received a telegram from President Carson of the Central League, stating that a meeting of the league club owners will be held at Columbus Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The telegram stated that it was important that Mr. Hamilton be present. Matters pertaining to the life of the league will be discussed and other business brought to the attention of the magnates.

POINTS FROM THE PENCILS OF CENTRAL SCRIBES

Terre Haute scribes, who early this season were so enthusiastic over the chances of the Tots, have given up hopes and now write that L. D. Smith's aggregation is hopelessly out of the running as far as the pennant in Terre Haute is concerned.

Wacker is not yet the property of the local club. He comes to the locals on the optional agreement and Casey can purchase the southpaw should he so desire. In event the deal is not made until fall, however, Wacker reverts to Dayton.

Grant says that Evansville's unfortunate location makes that city the target for numerous rains. It is the weather which has put the Eva team to the bad this season and not the lack of baseball fans in Evansville.

A deal may be pulled off within the next few days whereby Newark is to acquire the old Stag franchise outright. Fans there are enthused over Central league ball. The franchise is held for $6,000 and $2,500 of that was posted when the club was switched to Newark.

In Pandey and Ragan the Newark club possesses two of the cleverest infielders in the Central. Both are hitting and running the bases in clever form as well as showing class in fielding. And some tried to make them out as jokes this spring.

CHARGES THAT SYNDICATE OWNS MANY CLUBS

Ft. Wayne, Ind., July 22.—The South Bend papers, in the past the most ardent supporters of President F. (Fanning) R. Carson and the Central League, have at last turned on the league's talkative head and the organization itself and are now wont to picture it almost in the light of a gigantic corporation which chooses to control baseball affairs hereabouts and generally hand it to the much-abused sport public. South Bend scribes claim that three clubs

SHORT SPORT

The Phillies must do their darnedest without the services of Sherwood Magee, the best outfielder in the business. Magee has been suspended for the remainder of the year for removing Umpire Flumeran's blueprints.

Wm. J. Locke, secretary of the Pittsburgh Club, according to the dope obtained from the horse itself right at the feed box, is slated to win the National league presidential handicaps.

Those eminent Icelanders, O'Toole and Kelly, won again beating Minneapolis 7 to 1 and yet they linger amid the minors and spendthrift Charley Murphy is still drawing interest on that $20,000.

After getting rid of Charley Herzog as an undesirable McGraw has let down the immigration bars and begs the wanderer to return to his native heath between second and third on the polo grounds.

After pitching five games of the worst ball in his career Wiltse came back and shut out the dashing Cardinals, allowing them but two hits. This Senor Marsans is making good with the Reds. This fact will probably lead to his early sale. A world beating team might be formed of players the Reds have cast off. The Athletics now are only four and a half games behind Ty Cobb. Sounds easy, but isn't.

Loafing is really no fun unless you have a lot of work to do.

The Hanover ball team is without a game for Sunday. Any team wanting a game, call 289-L3 on Bell phone, between 6 and 7 o'clock, and ask for Herbert.

BALTIMORE WANTS BIG LEAGUE BALL

Baltimore, Md., July 22.—That Baltimore will make a determined effort to be represented next year by a baseball club in the National league was evinced today when it was announced that Mayor Preston had sent a letter to all the owners of clubs in the National and American leagues asking them to meet a committee of prominent citizens of Baltimore in this city July 28 to consider the transfer of the franchise of the Boston National League club to Baltimore.

Earlier in the day a conference was held by the mayor and Edward Hanford, under whose management Baltimore won three National League pennants in the early '90's. It is understood that Mr. Hanford has an option on the Boston franchise.

BLUE PIKE DIE IN LAKE ERIE

With a view of determining the cause for so many dead fish along the southern shore of Lake Erie, the State Game and Fish Warden, General Speaks has started an investigation. Fishermen attribute the condition to the hot weather of the past few weeks. According to Speaks, there is a probability of another cause.

"It is singular that of the thousands of dead fish seen floating on the water that all are blue pike," he said. "I am unable to account for the fact that other fish are not also killed."

A timely paper of the August Century (the Midsummer Holiday number) will be an account of "Motoring in Algeria and Tunis"—from Algiers to Constantine and Biskra—by Abigail H. Fitch in which the writer tells of the network of wonderful highways France has built through North Africa, of the unexpected comfort of a tour there "without further guidance than good road maps and occasional inquiries from French-speaking people, and of many other details of interest to travelers and motor enthusiasts.

MOORE-LANEHART.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Avis Moore and Mr. J. F. Lanehart in Sandusky on Tuesday afternoon. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Moore of Granville street, while the groom is a traveling superintendent of insurance. They are on a wedding trip to extend over several weeks.

MORGAN-VARNER.

Mr. Clarence Morgan and Miss Laura Varner, both of Newark, stole a march on their many friends and went up to the home of Elder Ruffner near Millersport, and were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Thursday evening, July 20, 1911.

One of the prettiest parties of the week was the bridge party given on Friday afternoon by Mrs. Ralph Wyeth at her home in the Granville road. Mrs. Wyeth extended out of compliment to Mrs. Orr, King of Toledo and Mrs. John Norwood of Baltimore, Md.

The convivents for the game were awarded to the honor guests. At six o'clock a delicious dinner of several courses was served at the small tables. The Wyeth home was arranged with a profusion of red roses.

Six tables of players participated in the game, among whom were Mrs. King of Toledo, Mrs. Norwood of Baltimore, Mrs. Fishburner of Roanoke, Va., Miss Vink of Lancaster, and Mrs. Herman Upham of Detroit.

The L. C. B. A. will hold their annual picnic at Buckeye Lake, Tuesday, July 25. Members are asked to take either 10 or 2 o'clock car.

Mrs. Carl Norpell entertained the members of her sewing club with a luncheon at her bungalow in Lovers' Lane on Friday. The luncheon was of the most delightful appointments, the table decorations being of maiden hair fern.

The party went to the bungalow at nine o'clock Friday morning and luncheon was served at one. The summer home is beautifully located and the surroundings are unusually attractive.

Those in the party were: Mesdames W. H. Sedgwick, Rollin Sook, Charles Ward, Fred Jones, Ida Chase, George Ball Jr., Jesse D. Elliott, Clifford Sturgeon, Walter Symons, William Zentmyer, Miss Besse Felix, Miss Elizabeth Jones and Mrs. Thad Montgomery of Coshocton.

Members of the Licking Country club will dance at the club house next Tuesday evening.

Looking Upward.

One Recipe for Happiness.

ONE of our modern philosophers has said, "Happiness is the feeling we experience when we are too busy to be miserable." And Carlyle, whose words are always worth pondering, has penned, "Work is the grand cure for all the maladies and miseries that ever beset mankind, honest work which you intend to get done."

So that the one who is unhappy will be wise if he or she will look about for some work to do. Unhappiness is a mental state. If the mind is full of some interest, there is no place for unhappiness to get in. Thoughts are things, and occupy space in their own sphere, quite as much as do material things in the realm of matter. If there are no empty spaces in the mind for unhappy thoughts to occupy, they simply can get no power over us.

The cure then for unhappiness is work. If there is no need to work for money, look about for work that will be of help to others. The world is in need of such workers, and women are laboring so magnificently in many fields for the common good, that it makes the one who sits with idle hands ashamed of herself that she is not in the ranks.

In the wonderful Social Conference held in Boston recently, women were among the speakers quite as impartially as men; and in the many movements all over the country for the common uplift, women were shown to be working side by side with men, and in many cases doing work which men cannot do.

Miss Martha Van Rennselaer, of New York, has done, and is doing, wonderful work in the way of helping national housekeeping. Through her efforts, farm women all over the country are being helped to a scientific understanding of their end of the work that crops up on the farm. Caroline Bartlett Crane has become famous as a city housekeeper, and has cleaned up and put in order many a city to the utmost satisfaction of its citizens. Mrs. Mulliner, of New York, brought about the establishment of a separate court for the trial of women under arrest. A volume could be filled with the magnificent work women are doing for others. And all such work needs workers. The women who want something to do to drive away unhappiness will not need to seek far to find it.

If one must labor to earn her living, she should endeavor to find the work she most likes to do. This will most quickly bring her happiness. No one can be unhappy long, when she is doing the work she loves. Then she should study the work in all its branches. Let it fill her life and mind completely. She will soon find herself singing at her task. And she will awake some morning to find her heart light, her mind free of all shadows, and life once more full of joy. No better advice could be given the one who is unhappy than to be too busy to be miserable.

Peach Spongade.—Peel, stone and rub through a sieve sufficient ripe peaches to give two and one-half cups of pulp. Boil together for five minutes, three cups of sugar and one and one-half cups of water and set aside until cold. Whip the whites of six eggs to a soft froth, stir gradually into the peach pulp, add the cold syrup and freeze until firm. Pack and set aside for two hours and serve in glasses.

Molasses Cake.—One cupful of molasses, one cupful of boiling water, two heaping cups of flour, one-half cupful of butter, one egg, one teaspoonful of baking soda, one teaspoonful of ground ginger, two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Beat the butter and sugar together, then rub them into the flour until fine; add the molasses and yolk of egg and beat well; lastly, add the boiling water and the white of egg beaten stiff. This recipe makes a thick sheet in a biscuit pan.

GO RIGHT AT IT.

Friends and Neighbors in Newark Will Show You How.

Get at the root of the trouble.

Rubbing an aching back may relieve it.

But it won't cure it.

You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right at it; reach the cause; relieve the pain.

They cure, too, so Newark people say.

Mrs. C. Burman, 65 South Fourth street, Newark, O., says: "Sovereign backache and pains through my sides convinced me that I had kidney trouble. I consulted doctors and used remedies of various kinds, but I did not improve. In 1906 I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and began taking them. The contents of two boxes restored me to good health and since then I have always kept a supply of this remedy in the house. Other members of my family have used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and join me in recommending them."

DIVIDENDS WILL BE PAID BY RECEIVERS OF DEFUNCT NEWARK BANKING COMPANIES

A. A. Stasel, as receiver of the Newark Savings Bank Co., took an order in common pleas court this morning before Judge Seward to pay a dividend to all creditors of the bank of 16 per cent. This is 16 per cent upon the balance due upon all claims, calculating interest to May 21, 1911. Some days ago the receiver filed his final account, stating that all litigation had been settled or determined, all claims outstanding had been collected or sold, and the bank was ready for final settlement, and this dividend will be the closing up of all the bank matters.

There have been paid three dividends to creditors of the bank and these three dividends aggregate a traction over 80 per cent of the face value of all claims against the bank. There is a suit still pending on behalf of the creditors of the bank whose claims were contracted prior to Nov. 3, 1903. This was a suit brought against the stockholders and their double liability and will now be ready to be brought into judgment and out of that suit those creditors will receive their claims in full, with interest. These claims contracted prior to the date above named aggregate about one-half of the claims against the bank, so this will be the last chapter in the failure of the Newark Savings Bank Company. Taking everything into consideration a dividend of 80 per cent upon the face up all claims is an unusual amount for a failing bank to pay.

Saturday morning, Joseph Pugh, receiver for the Homestead Building & Savings Company, made application to Judge Seward for an order to pay a 25 per cent dividend upon the balance due on all claims allowed. The order was granted and Mr. Pugh says that payment of the dividend will be commenced on Tuesday, Aug. 15. This will be the ninth dividend and will make a total payment of claims of between 81 and 82 per cent on the face of the claims as they stood at the time of the failure. This will probably be the final dividend.

will be all in favor of Johnson, despite his immense overweight, for neither Curran nor Wells has ever shown reason to be considered in the same class with the colored man so far as fighting is concerned.

CINCINNATI FANS LOOK FOR CHANGE

BELIEVE THAT BATTING ORDER TOMORROW WILL SEE NEW FACES.

St. Louis Team Is Good Drawing Card—Weekly Short Letter From Cincinnati Sport Headquarters.

(By C. H. Zuber.)

Cincinnati, July 22.—Local followers of the game are on the qui vive for the return of the Reds to their own pasture Sunday. They are wondering just what sort of line-up will be offered, and whether Manager Griffith, who has been at the steering wheel of the locals for nearly three years, will be out on the third base coaching line in uniform, as of yore. The past two weeks have been extremely strenuous ones in the history of the local team, and it would not be surprising to see considerable new talent offered the public for inspection when the first game after the present trip is called on the local lot on Sunday, with those strenuous Cardinals opposing the Reds. Rumors have been numerous as to prospective changes, and while none of these reports have been verified as yet, there is likely to be something doing along those lines before Sunday. One thing is certain—the owners of the Reds are not satisfied with the manner in which results have not been obtained of late, and the lovers of the sport can be certain that the last half of the season will see a much higher grade of sport offered by the Reds than was vouchsafed them during the earlier portion of the season.

The best drawing card in the National League today is the aggregation over which Roger is holding reins. When the season opened the St. Louis team was not taken seriously. It was made up of a number of men who had been gathered here and there in the paratively unknown youngsters. A place paratively unknown youngsters. A place near the end of the line was the best that was picked for the Cardinals. But with the cast-offs playing a better game than heretofore, and with the unknown pitchers delivering a superior and consistent grade of goods, the Cards have been moving right along, and now are so near the top that they must be considered in the race for the flag. The fact that the team contains quite a number of players who were formerly Reds makes their advent here doubly interesting, and the fans will flock out to see them during their engagement here, as well as to see what changes the local management contemplates in the team's line-up in order that it may make a hot finish.

It is doubtful if any pitcher ever had the Indian sign on an opposing team with greater persistency and consecutiveness than has Christy Mathewson on the Reds. The locals have not won a game from this mighty twirler in nearly three seasons, he having a total string of twenty consecutive victories over them, with not even a tie game to break the monotony of the defeats. There is no doubt that Mathewson is the big noise in keeping the Giants near the top of the heap, and his work this season indicates that he still has some good work left in him. Mathewson expects to add to his record over the Reds when the New Yorks come next week, following the Cardinals. The Brooklynns will succeed the New Yorks as local visitors, one of them games being scheduled for Sunday, July 30, while the Phillies will wind up the second visit of the Eastern teams with a game on Sunday, August 6, and three games subsequently.

Our chocolate-colored friend, Jack Johnson, seems to be out for the coin in real earnest during his present visit to the British possessions. Following the announcement that he will fight Paddy Curran, the Irish champion, for a purse of $25,000 and a side bet in August, comes the additional news that he has signed up to do battle with Bombardier Wells, the English heavy-weight champion for a purse of $40,000 and the world's championship, this battle to take place in England in September. Johnson must be pretty confident of walloping Curran, for he did not hesitate to make the match with Wells without any stipulations regarding the Curran battle. Betting

Both Packey McFarland, the American, and Freddie Welsh, the Welshman, are anxious to take from Ad Wolgast his honors as lightweight champion of the world. Both have sent in challenges, Welsh's being backed by some $20,000 put up by his British manager, while McFarland claims to have as much money at his command as Wolgast can cover. There seems to be some doubt as to McFarland's ability to make the lightweight limit of 133 pounds, but he himself declares that he can do it, and that he'll weigh in at or below that figure of the proposed Thanksgiving day match is arranged. Wolgast says he's willing to meet both men in turn, and to give Owen Moran, who is complaining of his recent defeat, another chance also.

The only complaint made against the racing season at Latonia was that the jockeys were, as a rule, better suited to ride in broncho-busting contests than in horse races of the legitimate sort, the rough tactics indulged in by some of the boys causing the dope to go wrong on a number of occasions. In a general way, however, the meeting was the most satisfactory ever held at the local track. There was less talk of scandal, better attendance, more satisfaction with the betting system and a stricter supervision over the interests of the public than ever before. Under like conditions it is but natural that the racing game should grow in favor here and elsewhere. And there is every reason to believe that it will.

New York, July 22.—William R. Swan, father of 19 year old Louise Swan, missing from her home since early this week said today that he feared the notoriety accompanying her disappearance from home had led his daughter to drown herself. Mrs. Swan, mother of the girl, is still in a very serious condition from worry and doctors say if her suspense is not relieved soon she will die. Detectives working on the case do not believe the girl is dead, but can find no clue that will account for her disappearance.

RARE AQUATIC REPTILE CAUGHT IN SOUTH FORK

William Holler, a farmer living in Licking township, has in his possession the body of a salamander, an aquatic reptile which he captured with a hook in the waters of the South Fork near his farm, southwest of the city last Sunday. The peculiar specimen of reptile lived in a tub of water for three days, when it died, not being able to stand the unnatural element. Mr. Holler brought the reptile's body to Newark and had it preserved in alcohol.

This species existed in great numbers in the Allegheny river; a century ago, and it takes its name of Allegheny Salamander from this fact. It exists throughout the Mississippi system, of which the Licking river and its branches is tributary.

According to early French explorers who came to that region in 1719, the Seneca Indians, who dwell on the upper Allegheny river and its tributaries, regarded the creature with more reverence than any other inhabitant of those waters. On one occasion they served a great feast to white visitors, which consisted chiefly of corn on the cob boiled with salamander and a small fish named by the Indians as "cockadush." It is presumed that the Senecas extracted the poisonous portions of the salamander before cooking.

Make Your Home Disease-Proof

THE treacherous, disease-breeding dirt is the UNSEEN DIRT—the dirt that the housewife thinks she destroys when she uses soap and water and so-called "Cleaners," but which still remains to spread havoc by the disease-germs it breeds. Right here is where CN comes on the scene—a few drops put into a pail of cleaning water makes the house sweet-clean, pure-clean, and most important of all, safe-clean.

No diseases can lurk in the trail of CN. It leaves a path of purity—a path of vigorous health, because it destroys every vestige of dirt and germs. It "gets" the Unseen Dirt that is otherwise overlooked. Your druggist can tell you all about CN.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

For Those Who Want Fat.

If you are thin don't try to get flesh by overeating. It is not what you eat, but what you digest and assimilate, which makes flesh. You would get better results if you should eat more frequently, and light, nourishing food, instead of eating three heavy meals, or take a cup of hot milk between your meals and at bedtime. If the hot milk is not agreeable to you try a bowl of oatmeal or cornmeal gruel. Something which is easily digested and agreeable to your taste will build you up better than forcing yourself to eat what does not appeal to your appetite. A nourishing cream will help in filling up the hollows in face and neck, and you may have a formula or the address where you can get a good cream.
If you have not the inclination to mix it for yourself.

ADVOCATE'S ANNOUNCEMENT

To Democratic Candidates for City Offices at the Coming Primary Election.

The Advocate will not publish any paid announcements of candidates for city offices at the primary elections to be held this year.

The paper deems it necessary to make this departure from what has been its lifelong custom in consequence of the unusual existing conditions at this time.

The names of worthy candidates will be printed in these columns from time to time as matters of news only, but paid announcements will be excluded abso-

Facts About Steel Trust.

The restriction of competition, which is in violation of the law,
was the prime object of the organizers of the United States Steel corporation, according to information which has recently come to light in Washington.
When formed the steel trust had property valued at $682,000,000. But it was capitalized at $1,402,000,000. Of the capital stock, $720,000,000, or more than half, was water. Three partners of J. P. Morgan advanced $28,000,000 to finance the trust and received stock worth $90,500,000. The average rate of profit from 1901 to 1910 on the corporation's actual investment was 12 per cent. Although this combine is in existence in plain violation of the law, the Taft administration refused to prosecute it. The Taft administration, however, co-operated with the steel trust by giving secrets of our battleships to foreign nations with the understanding that in exchange for these secrets the countries thus favored would give a substantial contract to the steel trust. The man who permitted the exchange of vital government secrets in order that the illegal trust could increase its dividends was Philander C. Knox, now secretary of state.
Mr. Knox helped organize the steel trust and went from the position of steel trust attorney to that of United States Attorney General.

The old veterans who were at the battle of Bull Run, or Manassas, 50 years ago, have many interesting incidents to relate. One veteran who was entertaining friends with stories of the battle, was asked by a listener:
"Did you run?" "Of course I did," he promptly replied. "If I hadn't ran I would have been there yet."

Probing by Congressional committees is a good thing. The friends of the industrial combinations have so long been potent in Congress that no unpleasant questions were asked and no obstacles were thrown in the way of the formation of monopolies. When Trust-buster Roosevelt was making great professions in the presidential campaign the monopolies always got his support under the plea that they were "good trusts." It is a good thing that opponents of Trusts are now on hand in Washington hitting bids, asking questions and finding out about things.

It is reported in Washington that whatever the President may do with Dr. Wiley, the Committee on Expenditures in the Agricultural Department, which probably never did a thing better since it was created, will investigate the Rusby affair in a spirit that may make things unpleasantly interesting for the Secretary of Agriculture and the Attorney General.

It would apparently afford great satisfaction to Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, if the skeletons of the dead of the civil war could be articulated and life infused into them so that they could be set once more in battle array against each other. Heyburn is regarded as a nuisance by the Senators of both parties and is devoid of friendships in the Senate membership.
His name is becoming a hissing and a by-word throughout the country.

GAME LAWS ARE CHANGED BUT LITTLE

The changes in the Ohio game laws are few, but the most important are announced as follows by Chief Warden Speaks:

The open season for squirrel is changed to Sept. 15 to Oct. 20 with a limit of five for one day's bag. A new law provides that "no person shall catch, kill or injure any fox from the 1st day of December to the first day of the following September", both inclusive.

Muskrat has been designated as a game animal with an open season from January 1 to April 1.

Raccoon has also been placed under the jurisdiction of the fish and game department, with an open season from Nov. 1 to March 1. The law provides that muskrat and raccoon may be killed by the owner of property at any time, except Sunday, when found injuring property.

The above were the only changes made.

VETERAN SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE, WHOSE EARLY RETIREMENT IS RUMORED

SECRETARY WILSON
COPYRIGHT BY CROWN BROS.

Washington, July 22.—It is intimated by friends of Mr. Taft that the president would welcome the retirement of Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture and this is regarded as a possibility growing out of the case of Dr. Wiley, the pure food expert, one of Wilson's subordinates. Secretary

Wilson is the veteran of the cabinet, having served continuously as head of his department for fourteen years, under Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. It is understood that he has been in opposition to Dr. Wiley's course as chief of the bureau of chemistry.

THE MOSSBACK.

A mossback, old and sad am I, and while I dream the world goes by and greets me with a jeer. "You are a fossil," so it sings, because I love the olden things, the things of yester-year. When I was young, in bygone age, we looked to venerable sage for wisdom undefiled; but now, if wisdom we would learn, away from ancient men we turn and ask it from a child. This is the stripling's golden time; "Young blood" we make the world sublime; old things must pass away, old customs that our fathers knew, old laws, "neath which the nation grew, all these have had their day. If anything is white with years, it is a thing for jeers and jests and mirth and ribald roar; and babes and sucklings tell us why the helms of the land must die, and honored be no more.
When any plan that a new is tried, it represents a forward stride, however wild it seems; and if a mossback, passing bold, defends the tested and the old, he deals in fossil dreams. I am a mossback, old and gray;
the sun of my life's little day is sinking in the west, and till the gloom of night descends, I'll love old ways, old times, old friends—I love the old things best.

POLLS WILL BE OPEN UNTIL SIX O'CLOCK

Voters Will Have Half Hour More in Which to Cast Ballots.
Copy of New Laws.

Voters all over the state will have half an hour longer in which to cast their votes, according to a copy of new laws received by the board of elections, as the polls will be open from 5:30 a. m. to 6 p. m., a half hour longer in the evening.

Nominating petitions must be filed with the board not less than 30 days before the primary. Candidates must also file statements of the expenses they incurred in the race. The governor is allowed to spend $5000, state officials $2500, representatives in congressional districts $2000, state senators $500 in each county in his district, state representative $500, and other lesser officials $300 where the last vote for governor was 5000 or less and $5 for each hundred over that vote.

The law also stipulates that any manufacturer or employer who has placards or handbills carrying threats of dismissal for employees or shutdown of factory if a certain ticket is elected or defeated is guilty of corrupt practices.

PRESIDENT

culminating exercises of the Manassas semi-centennial reunion and love feast of the men who opposed each other in the war between the states the sun was shining brightly. He had not gone on his way, however, when the storm clouds began to gather. Before the deluge came he had time to stop at Fairfax Courthouse to take a look at George Washington's last will and testament and to get luncheon.

Five miles out of Fairfax the president's car mounted a hill, dipped down into a valley and discovered a big touring car stalled in the middle of a stream that in ordinary days is two feet wide, but which yesterday was widened into 100 feet of yellow, swirling water. Seated in it, calmly awaiting their fate, were three United States Senators, Nelson of Minnesota, Bacon of Georgia and Overman of North Carolina and Solicitor General Lehmann. Senator Brandegee, owner of the car, had abandoned his friends in midstream and gone ahead to secure services of a horse or two to pull them out.

Major A. W. Butt, the president's personal aid, took one look at the stream and another at his shining yellow boots. Then the boots came off and the major was in the torrent up to his waist. He scouted right and left and finally waded across and back again.

"We can get across," said he as he came back, "in one waiting. White House, car, bedraggled, but happy.
The president raised his hat in dignified fashion.

"Thank you, major," he said, "get in and we'll try it."
As he passed Senator Brandegee's machine the president gravely saluted.
"How do you do, senators?"
said he.

The two machines that had started from Washington with the president made the ford in short order.
On the further bank they stopped.
Passing carriages were called into service and, in one moment, were lighted to shore. Senator Nelson was taken into the president's car.
He took glances at his colleagues, sat back comfortably, took a fresh chew of tobacco and was prepared for the worst.

Two miles further south the scene was repeated. This time the attempt at fording failed miserably.
In spite of Major Butt's gallant efforts to find a crossing. One of the three presidential cars was sent ahead, manned by secret service men only.

It died in the channel and the secret service men waded back to shore. Major Butt, wet to the ar-mpits, came back disconsolate to meet the presidential salute. At this crossing a few neighborhood farmers, checked also in their efforts to get to Manassas. They looked at the president in awe and at the major in some amusement.

"Hasn't he got handsome feet?"
said one, as he gazed at the unshod feet of the president's aid.
Back over the same road they had just traveled, the White House car now containing another senator, traveled with care. Behind it came a second car, loaded with more senators and secret service men. At the ford they had crossed a short time before, they had to resort once again to horses and carriages, but once

THE ST. JOHN'S EVANGELICAL CONGREGATION

Will Celebrate Seventieth Anniversary of Founding of Church.

FESTIVAL SERVICE TO OCCUR SUNDAY

Cantata "The Healing of Naaman," by Jubilee Chorus Monday Night.

The German church-going residents of the city will on Sunday celebrate the 70th anniversary of the founding of the only German church in the city, the St. John's Evangelical, and special services will commemorate the event. On Sunday morning, July 23, 1911, will be held a big festival service, and all the ceremonies will be in German. Assisting during the anniversary will be Rev. Mr. Diegel of Massillon and Rev. Mr. Katterjohn of Canton.

The morning service is at 10:15 o'clock, and in the evening the opening hour is 7 o'clock and the service will be in English. On Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the oldest members of the church and their friends are to be entertained in the church and this bit of a social feature is expected to be the most interesting of the celebration, as the church claims some of the oldest Newark citizens in its membership, and the hour Monday afternoon promises to be bright with many reminiscences.

In the evening of Monday will be given the big cantata, "The Healing of Naaman," by the big jubilee chorus. The chorus consists of a great number of voices. Following the cantata an ice cream social will be held.

The St. John's Evangelical is one of the most prosperous congregations in the city and every member ever evinces a marked interest in all the feasts and festivals and this—the 70th anniversary—is a day of celebration to all.

MONDAY EVENING 7 O'CLOCK.
PROGRAMME.
Scripture Cantata, "Faith Triumphant" or "The Healing of Naaman" based on the story in II Kings 5.
Place of action is Damascus during the reign of Benhadad II.
The Syrian host returns triumphant from battle, at their head is Naaman, their champion. All Damascus hails her chief, but the triumphant shout soon fades away and turns to cry of sorrow and grief, for Naaman, the champion of the Syrian host, is stricken with leprosy.
Prayer and sacrifice to the gods is of no avail. Finally a Hebrew captive maid, a slave of the wife of Naaman, tells of Israel's wonderful prophet (Elisha) in Samaria, of his power over life and death. Naaman is persuaded to go to the prophet, and he returns not only healed in body, but in soul, having accepted the God of Israel as the only true God.

THE CHARACTERS.

ST. JOHN EVANGELICAL CHURCH SEVENTIETH ANNIVERSARY.
St. John's Evangelical church was founded seventy years ago, when on July 18, 1841, a number of devout Germans—twenty-five original members—united in religious organization and under leadership of Rev. Martin Schaad organized the Evangelical Protestant St. Johns Church.

On July 25th the first board of trustees was elected, constituted as follows: President, Henry Richenbach; secretary, Andreas Petry, treasurer, Ch. F. Eichner, elders, David Fischer, G. Buehlmeyer; trustees, Jacob Grasser, Jacob Paul.
The first church—a brick building 40x30—in September and completed in January 1842 and dedicated to the service of God, January 26.
Constitutionally the confessional position of the church was thus defined: As a union of the Reformed and Lutheran churches we style ourselves Evangelical church and acknowledge the holy scriptures as the sole guide of life and faith and interpret same in accordance with the Symbolical books of the Reformed Lutheran church in so far, as they agree, permitting freedom of conscience in points where they differ.

The year 1857 was a memorable year for the church. In that year the first parsonage was built, costing some $450.00, then also the Rev. W. C. Kiesel together with a considerable number of the membership seceded from the church and founded the German Presbyterian Salem church which ceased to exist in 1907.
In 1859 during the pastorate of Rev. Th. Heermann, who died in January, 1865, a Sunday school was begun which grew very rapidly during his time.

The old church proving defective and too small the present church was built in 1870, (dimensions 70x42 seating capacity 500) while the Rev. Mr. Ruedinger was in charge. The Ladies Aid Society assisted greatly in reducing the debt incurred by building the new church, yet the debt weighed heavily upon the membership; so heavily that during the years from 1878 to 1880 the congregation helped itself without a minister. Thus with much earnest zeal the work for the church and Sunday school was kept up by officers and members and when in 1880 Rev. L. Haas took charge of St. Johns he could confirm 31 children on Easter of the following year 1881.

In the course of these seventy years there have been eighteen ministers in charge of St. Johns church. The longest pastorate was that of Rev. Michael Scheffer (1883-1906) Rev. Scheffer organized the Young Peoples' Society in 1887. Also during his time the church steeple was erected. Rev. Scheffer retired from the ministry in the summer of 1906, and is now living in his beautiful country home about one mile west of Newark.

With the coming of Rev. H. M. Wieske in 1906 a distinct departure must be noted. The German ceased to be the exclusive language of the church, English being introduced in the Sunday School, the Young Peoples' Society as well as the evening. In the summer of 1910 Rev. Wieske accepted a call to Trinity church Paducah, Ky., where he is working with much success.

During the last eight months St. Johns now in charge of Rev. P. G. Saffran has been steadily growing. Members and officers of the congregation, the Sunday school and various societies have been working loyally together and have consequently been enjoying the work for the church.

Work has just been completed on the new concrete walk which has been laid around the church property as an anniversary gift to the church by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miller.

We are very glad to say here that this adds greatly to the improvement of church property as well as the popular corner of South Fifth and Poplar avenue, and we hope this is only the beginning of a long, but fast-coming series of improvements in the South side throughout.

Another anniversary gift, in the form of a beautiful Lyon & Healy piano was made to the church by the Philathea class of the Sunday school.

VENUS ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION

The evening star, Venus, that has been shining so lustrous in the west the past few months, has reached its greatest elongation, which is 45 1/2 degrees up in the sky, and is now gradually receding, though it will be a month before it will reach its greatest brilliancy. After Sept. 15 it will appear as a morning star.

There has been no more beautiful object than Venus during the summer. Venus is the nearest celestial neighbor, except the moon, and it is just the size of the earth. The reason Venus does not get higher in the sky is because it is between us and the sun.

Patience is a virtue that we always expect our creditor to possess.

THE AUGUST CENTURY.
A Midsummer Holiday and Fiction Number.
The August Century follows magazine tradition by offering its readers, habitual and occasional, more than the usual amount of fiction: The second half of Edith Wharton's "Other Times, Other Manners," and short stories, several of them highly humorous, by W. T. Nichols, Mary Merz Atwater, Alma Martin Estabrook, George Phillips, Ellis Parker Butler and Anne Warner. Also in keeping with the spirit of a midsummer holiday number is an enthusiastic and sympathetic picture of "Unique Mount Desert," by Robert Haven Schaffner, author of "Romantic Germany"—a picture which will give many readers a new conception of this most wonderful of American resorts, unique for its beauty, its altruism and its variety of life and scenery.
The two notable serial features of the magazine, Dr. Arthur C. McGiffert's "Martin Luther and His Work" and Guglielmo Ferrero's "The Women of the Caesars," have chapters of much interest. Dr. McGiffert's biography treats at length of Luther's conflict with radicalism, and the Italian historian's paper tells the story of Tiberius and Agrippina, a black and tragic period of Roman history.

Daddy's Bedtime

All About a Horse
Story — That Was Clever
As Most Persons

Baby Nell Would Undo Any Padlock

"I HAVEN'T told you any story about horses lately," said daddy after the youngsters had twisted themselves into comfort in their cribs. "so I think I'll tell you one tonight about the oldest horse in Ohio, who died the other day at the remarkable age, for a horse, of thirty-two years."

"Splendid, daddy," said Jack and Evelyn.

"She belonged," began daddy, "to an old friend of mine, Dr. Frazier, who brought her from Kentucky when she was about three years old. He called her Baby Nell, and it wasn't long before everybody in town knew her and would say when they would come up to her patiently waiting for the doctor to come out on a visit, 'Hello, Baby Nell!' and she would always bow her pretty head as politely and gracefully as a young lady at a ball."

"Baby Nell was a thoroughbred and naturally nervous, but she had so much brains, or, shall we say in this case, 'horse sense,' that she could be really frightened and still keep quiet."

"Her master never had to touch her with a whip. If he was in a hurry he would just say quietly, 'Get along, Nell,' or if he wanted just to jog along he would say, 'Easy now, Baby,' and that would be enough."

"Once I remember that while wandering around on the doctor's farm, for she was never tied up or fenced in, she found herself on the railroad track, with two trains coming in opposite directions. She stood still between the tracks until both trains had gone by, but when her master, who had witnessed the whole scene, had reached her side she was absolutely drenched with perspiration."

"But I am sorry to say that in her later years Baby Nell became a burglar. The doctor's barn was small and had only two stalls, one for Baby and one for the cow. Baby's stall was never locked, and she got into the habit of walking into Mrs. Cow's stall and eating most of the hay."

"When Mrs. Cow became painfully thin a watch discovered Baby's trick, and a heavy spring hook was put on the door of the cow stall. But it was no time before Baby discovered how to open it as easily as she had opened the original plain one. Then a padlock was bought, but the mare learned to open that with her teeth, so Mrs. Cow had to be moved to a house of her own."

"Baby Nell wasn't very strong for the last few years of her life, but she wasn't sold, you may be sure of that. She was just petted and allowed to go and come as she chose until her death."

"Well, she was a fine horse," said Jack.

VALUES SHOULD GROW.
One of the troubles in connection with this whole conservation movement is that it is difficult to state the problems in phrases which shall not seem to be platitudes. Our rivers, forests, the soil of our farms, should be of more value to the next generation because we have got to use out of them for our generation. To do that we have to have co-operation between the government and the individual business man. —Theodore Roosevelt.

Young Mothers

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores.

Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

WIFE TRIED TO REFORM HUSBAND'S ALLEGED AFFINITY

Kansas City, Mo., July 22.—Chas. L. Goddard, a Pacific Coast City Jeweler, and his alleged affinity, Miss Anna Doyle, were arrested here at the instance of the former's wife.

Goddard was fined $200 by Judge James H. Richards and Miss Doyle was released on promise that she would leave for her home.

Mrs. Goddard told the judge that after tracing the couple to Denver, she consented to come to this city as a temporary visitor, hoping to use Christian influence to reform her husband, but that she found her efforts in vain, claiming that neither her husband nor the young woman would yield.

BURGLARS USED CHLOROFORM ON ARCADIA COUPLE

Findlay, O., July 22.—Mrs. Chas. Krabill of Arcadia, O., lies in a critical condition as the result of chloroform administered by burglars who entered her home last night. Her husband, who was similarly treated, will recover.

Bloodhounds were immediately placed on the track of the robbers, who were tracked to within a few miles of the city, where all trace was lost.

The burglars secured several checks endorsed for large amounts, a gold watch and smaller articles.

The Olympia team and the Anchors will play at Wehrle Park on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. The Athertons and the Knights of St. John were to play in the afternoon, but the transfer of the Wheeling games made this impossible.

THE AUGUST OUTING.

The August issue of Outing is brimming over with tips for vacation play and work from farming, boat-house building and sailboat racing down to photography, fishing, and plain industrial loafing.

Vacation stories include Hulbert Footner's "Canoeing in Eden," an account of a canoe trip through the lakes and rivers of Florida everglades. This is a pleasant, quietly humorous story of varied happenings with a good outdoor flavor.

"The Conquest of No Man's Land" by Herbert J. Job, illustrated with photographs by the author, is for the bird photographers. It contains a lot of information gained by patient study and the pictures are excellent.

Mr. Charles Phelps Cushing's story, "Floating Through the Ozarks," gives an account of an unusual vacation trip. Mr. Cushing describes a "float" as a cross between a splinter, a canoe and a raft. Those who need rest will be comforted to know that little is necessary for a trip of this kind beyond a pacific temperament and a willingness to sit still in the float while the river does the rest.

Mr. F. St. Mars, already known to Outing readers, has written "The Traitors" and the famous animal artist, Charles Livingston Bull, has illustrated the story. It is a little drama of wild life in which ducks take the principal parts, assisted by other feathered actors, and two hunters.

The Twinflower Farm is again represented in "Living Off the Land," by Helen Dodd. Contrary to general belief, a rich and varied table all the year round has been secured by the amateur farmers and they "tell how."

Dillon Wallace has contributed a timely article on "Saving Our Fish," showing the methods pursued in the preservation of game fish. He gives an outline of the problems to be faced and an analysis of the cause of decrease in game fish. Illustrated with photographs.

A Western story of the grimly humorous type comes fresh from the pen of Charles Alden Seltzer, entitled "The Special Messenger," with illustrations by Thornton D. Skidmore. There is movement in this story and a little tragedy.

COL. TOM KEAN BACK ON DUTY
Thomas S. Kean, who for many years has been employed in the U. S. mail service as transfer clerk, is back again on his old job after having been off duty for a few months on account of the condition of his health. During his absence Mr. Kean spent a portion of his time at a health resort, where he derived great benefit from the baths. He also spent some time at the Newark Sanitarium, where the treatment he received seemed to benefit him to a large extent. Mr. Keene is one of the most efficient men in the mail service and his many friends are glad to know that he has recovered sufficiently to resume his duties.

RUPTURE
Mortimer H. Brown, the noted expert, who is recognized by the large truss manufacturers as the foremost truss designer and fitter visits Newark.

Mr. Brown will demonstrate to those interested the latest advancement in the making and fitting of trusses, and will show which has no leg straps, elastic bands or steel springs, and is especially designed for ruptures low down, and hard to hold with ordinary trusses. The pressure is less than one-half of any other truss, and it holds securely the most difficult ruptures with an up and back pressure thus closing the upper or inside opening where the rupture first starts to come out. The pad fits in the hollow above the pubic bone and there is no pressure in the back. The WUNDERTRUSS moves with the body and adapts itself to all positions without moving the pad from its location above the bone. It is a scientific marvel and acts on a new principle. Light, cool, made of bronze and cannot rust or get out of shape. Durable, scientific, and often closes the opening in a few days, and the longer you wear THE WUNDERTRUSS the less pressure it takes to hold your rupture. If you think there is no truss you can wear with comfort, or hold your rupture, then see a demonstration and have your doubts removed. This demonstration is made for advertising purposes for which there is no charge. Circulars from 22 Quincy St., Chicago, or 41 W. 6th St., New York.

Priest. I. G.—John Hollister.

Loyal Order of Moose. Licking Lodge, No. 499, is in a very flourishing condition. Mr. J. F. McClure has donated a handsome set of Shakespearean works to the Moose library.

A rate of $5.95 for the round trip has been secured for the excursion to Detroit, good for the week of August 21, when it is expected that many will want to attend the grand lodge meeting. Those who intend to go will confer a favor by leaving their names with Brother McFarland or Hamilton and if a sufficient number will go an effort will be made to charter a car.

A number of candidates were initiated Thursday evening, and a number of applications were received. It is expected that the membership of the lodge will pass the 600 mark by October 1st.

The lodge meets every Thursday evening. The house committee meets every Thursday evening and the trustees meet on the fourth Tuesday of each month.

GAME POSTPONED.

On account of the Wheeling-Newark games of the Central League at Wehrle Park, the Knights of St. John-Atherton game has been postponed. Those who have bought tickets can use them for the next game. Watch for the date.

Evers is discouraged at his inability to regain his strength and the clever Cub second baseman has just about given up the idea of playing again this season. He has hiked to the mountains in Vermont for a rest.

Pitcher Gwinn, whom L. D. Smith has turned back to Evansville claims that he has some back salary coming from the Terre Haute club, but that Louie refuses to turn over the coin. These are unusually strenuous days for the Terre Haute owner. Terre Haute papers say that Bubbles Hargrave, the New Haven boy, likewise has some grievances with the Tot boss.

The best isn't too good for the growing boy. He needs strong material in his clothes. Go to Roe Emerson, Cor. Third and Main, and get some of the values during his mark-down sale in the boy's department. 21-2

Was Impressed With Chicago's Greatness

Mr. Samuel King of South Fourth street has returned from a visit of several weeks in different western cities, his itinerary including a number of days at Chicago. Mr. King was greatly impressed with the latter city and regards it as one of the most wonderful which he has ever visited. The vast improvements which have occurred in recent years are almost unbelievable. There is one office building alone which houses almost as many people as there are in Newark. Mr. King was especially pleased with the City Parks and Public Playgrounds. One park alone has forty acres that is devoted to baseball and athletic sports. Thousands and thousands of children as well as elders use the play grounds daily and they are a great comfort to all. The parks at this time of year are beautiful, covered as they are with massive shrubbery and beautiful flowers. The boulevard system of the city is marvelous, one street alone having forty miles of asphalt.

THE AUGUST WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.

One of the most interesting things in the August Woman's Home Companion is an article which reports the girlhood of Mary Garden, the famous opera singer. The article is one of a series just beginning which is to treat of the girlhood of a number of prima donnas. The present article contains a thrilling account of Miss Garden's first public appearance in Paris. It was a sudden call into a most important part, and the young woman made herself famous in a night.

"How I Sold My Daughters," is the title of an extraordinary piece of self revelation by a mother in America. It is an interesting illustrated series by George Alfred Williams. "What a Man Expects of a Girl" and Margaret Sangster's talk on youth and old age are notable features.

Unusual fiction is contributed by Zona Gale, Fannie Heaslip, Lea, Dorcas Davis, Frederick M. Smith, Mary Hastings Bradley, Harriet P. Spofford and others.

On the practical side are several important contributions in addition to the regular fashion and household departments. All sorts of excellent useful suggestions are made along various lines. Dr. Jean Williams' article on "Home Sanitation" will be found valuable to home-makers everywhere. "Water Sport for Girls" is a most entertaining article for the general reader as well as for beginners at swimming. "Summer Dances and Parties" and "Outdoor Games for Boys and Girls" furnish many ideas for entertainment.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin of Port Harrison, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like I, sure enough, I faced everything I could hear of for my cough and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C. for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free at F. D. Hall's.

DIFFICULT TO SECURE HELP FOR THE FARM

Trouble is Experienced by Tillers of the Soil Near Granville—News-lets of Busy Little Village.

creased from 40.5 to 46.3 of the total. Twenty years ago only 36.1 per cent of the total population lived in such incorporated places. In classifying the 1910 census returns the bureau calls that portion of the population in incorporated cities or towns of 2,500 or more inhabitants urban and the remainder rural. On this basis, in 1910, 42,623,383, or 46.3 per cent of the total, lived in urban territory and 49,348,883 or 53.7 per cent in rural territory.

The District Y. W. C. A. convention will convene here on August 22 and will continue in session for ten days. It is expected that there will be about four hundred delegates in attendance. They will occupy the college buildings, and meals will be served in Shepley dining hall by Mrs. J. M. Swartz.

The Ohio Electric Railway people have completed their improvements of the road in Granville and the new track is considered one of the best pieces of work on any electric road in Central Ohio. The entire road between Newark and Granville is being placed in excellent shape.

Prof. John Randall, D. U. '04, and wife of Tacoma, Washington, are visiting friends in Granville.

Prof. M. E. Stickney is spending the week in Boston, Mass.

Wednesday, July 26, will be Granville Day at Summerland Beach, where the great Baptist Assembly is being held. As the excursion is in the interest of the Granville Public Library, a large number of our people are planning to visit Summerland Beach on that day. Children under 12 years will be carried at half fare on the T. and O. C. train, which leaves Granville at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. There will be splendid addresses and athletic sports of all kinds.

Mrs. Mary Smett of Nena, Ark., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Judson Harmon on Elm street. She expects to be here for about four weeks. Her husband will join her in a month, when they will go to Arizona.

The school board of Blackwell, Oklahoma, has elected Miss Mamie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Geach, to teach in the public schools of that place next year.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Wood of Bucyrus, O., after a pleasant visit with friends in the village, returned home Friday.

The citizens of Granville will meet in Assembly hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of holding a conference in reference to the coming primary election.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kirtland and daughter, Miss Anna, of near Lebanon, O., after a short visit with Mrs. Harriet Owens, north of town, during the past week, returned to their home Saturday.

BULL RUN REVIEWED.

That the Federal retreat was not the panic it has been called may be partly gathered from what occurred in the Confederate camps at the moment of victory. Pursuit was impulsively begun by Early and Stuart's cavalry, but it confined its attention chiefly to the three brigades retreating from Stone Bridge, which became entangled in the melee on the bridge across Cub Run, where raw recruits threw away their muskets, and prisoners—non-combatants as well as soldiers—were captured. But in the rear of the Confederate line at the very moment of victory a scarcely less confused scene presented itself. President Jefferson Davis, arriving from Richmond by rail at this junction, had great difficulty in reaching Manassas, and finally did so upon the engine of the train which brought him half a mile of the station. As he walked toward the sound of battle, hordes of stragglers convinced him that the day was lost. Arriving at the little stream near the place where a field-hospital had been established, he procured a horse, and, mounting it, shouted, "I am President Davis; follow me back to the field."

General Jackson had been shot through the hand, but had ignored the wound until this time, and was now submitting it to the surgeon. Jackson asked McGuire what the President said, and his words were repeated to him. Raising his stentorian voice, he shouted, "We have whipped them; they ran like sheep. Give me five thousand fresh men and I will be in Washington City tomorrow morning."—Robert Sloss in Harper's Weekly.

STATE TO HAVE FOREST.

The state of Ohio, through its agricultural experiment station at Wooster, has just established the nucleus of a great pine forest on the high tract of land near Warrensville, that is soon to be the site of one of the largest tuberculosis institutions in this section of the country. The forestry department has set out 6,000 small pine trees in nursery rows. In two or three years these will be uprooted and replaced about the grounds.

PICTURES THAT PLEASE.

Every one in a while you read about some picture selling for many thousands of dollars, but you can secure a beautiful reproduction of some of the world's masterpieces, ready for framing, absolutely free, by sending the Hewitt Brothers' Soap Company, Dayton, Ohio, a two-cent stamp and twenty-five wrappers from Hewitt's Fairy Soap, the pure, clean, original white laundry soap.

LABOR NEWS

The next regular meeting of the Newark Trades & Labor Assembly will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock sharp, and it is the wish of the officers that every delegate be present for all of the standing committees for the year are to be selected and some special ones.

The Assembly's Labor Day committee are working hard to have one of the largest and most attractive Labor Day celebrations ever held in Newark, on Sept. 4.

The amusement committee will be able in a few days to announce the great free attractions that are being secured, and the business men and manufacturers of the city are respectfully invited to join in the parade with their wagons and floats representing their business.

We look for thousands of strangers within our gates to help us celebrate on that day. Our last meeting was largely attended by the delegates. President Wm. Archer presided, assisted by the First Vice President, Fred Rail. Recording Secretary Jacob Vollmer read the journal of last session which was approved as read.

Bro. J. R. Beckett delegate from Iron Moulders' Union No. 152 was duly obligated by the president. The auditing committee's report was received and filed.

Organizer Adams was called to the chair and installed the following officers for the year: President Wm. Archer; First Vice President Fred Rail; Second Vice President, Irwin Conn; Chaplain, Lewis Carter; Recording Secretary, Jacob Vollmer; Treasurer, Charles Rosier; Financial Secretary, Charles Allen; trustees, Caine, Rell, and Butler and the following committees were appointed by President Archer, Organization committee, Adams, Beckett and Demert; press committee, J. W. Adams, Charles Allen and Charles Rosier; legislation committee, Bros. Bingham, Butler and Smart, Bro. Beckett was appointed on the regular assembly Labor Day Committee. The session was closed in due form by Chaplain Carter.

CASH PRIZE IS OFFERED FOR AN OFFICIAL POSTER

And now comes the official poster!—Every centennial has to have its official poster and the one in Columbus in 1912 is no exception.

All Ohio will be asked to compete for the design which will become the official poster of the Ohio-Columbus Centennial. Notice is being sent to all art schools and colleges in Ohio that the competition will open at once and continue until early fall. The Ohio-Columbus Centennial Commission will offer a cash prize and name a committee of judges outside of its own membership to pass on the various designs submitted.

Any citizen of Ohio is eligible to competition and any competitor may submit as many designs as desired. Detailed rules for the competition will be furnished upon request and will be in the hands of all the honorary commissioners, two in each county, throughout the state.

In a general way the poster must be something typifying the capitol city and the State of Ohio and indicating the progress and advancement of the last hundred years. The exact amount of the prize has not been determined, but it will be sufficiently large to induce the artists throughout the state to give their best efforts to the work. It will be paid in gold to the successful competitor immediately upon the close of the contest. The winner's name will be published in all the papers of the state.

This poster will not only be used for advertising purposes, but will become the official emblem of the Commission and will be used on all stationery and on all advertising matter as well.

LETTER HAS MANY SCARED

(Toledo Blade.)
Many papers throughout the United States are printing what is alleged to be a letter written by Christ. In this letter was an injunction that it should be published to the world by whosoever found it together with the statement that misfortune and bad luck would follow the person having possession of it in the event that it was not given publicly.

There was likewise a promise that whoever may have a copy of this in his or her possession will prosper and be followed by good fortune.

The Blade has received a number of requests to print the letter, so if it will relieve the superstitious fear of anyone, here it is:

According to the history of the letter it was written by Christ just after his crucifixion signed by the Angel Gabriel ninety-nine years after the Saviour's birth and presumably deposited by him under a stone at the foot of the cross:

"On this stone appeared the legend 'Blessed is he who shall turn me over.'"

No one knew what the inscription meant, or seemed to have sufficient curiosity to investigate, until the stone was turned over by a little child and the letter which follows was discovered:

"Whosoever worships on the Sabbath day shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep holy the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle or mispend your time in bed, king yourself in superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing for I have ordered it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy that your sins may be forgiven you.

"You will not break my commandments, but observe and keep them, they being written by my hand and spoken from my mouth. You shall not only go to church yourselves, but also your man servant and maid servant. Observe my words and learn my commandments.

"You shall finish your work every Saturday at 6 o'clock in the afternoon at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast five days in the year, beginning on Good Friday and continuing the five days following in remembrance of the five bloody wounds received for you and mankind.

"You shall love one another and cause them that are not baptized to come to church and receive the Holy Sacrament that is to say baptism and then the supper of the Lord, and be made a member thereof and in so doing shall give you long life and many blessings. Your land shall be replenished and bring forth abundance and I will comfort you in the greatest temptation and surely he that doth to the contrary shall be cursed.

"I will also send hardness to the heart of them and especially on hardened and unpenitent unbelievers. He that hath given to the poor shall find it profitable. Remember to keep the Sabbath day, for the seventh day I have taken as a resting day to myself.

"And he that hath a copy of this letter written by own hand and spoken by own mouth and keepeth it without publishing it to others shall not prosper but he that publisheth it to others shall be blessed by me and if their sins be as many as stars by night, and if they truly believe they shall be pardoned and they that believe not this writing and my commandments will have my plagues upon you and you will be consumed with your children, goods and cattle and all other worldly enjoyments that I have given you. Do but once think of what I have suffered for you, if you do it will be well for you in this world and in the world which is to come.

"Whosoever shall have a copy of this letter and keep it in their house nothing shall hurt them, neither pestilence, thunder or lightning, and if any woman is in birth and put her trust in me she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more news of me except through the Holy Scriptures, until the day of judgment. ... goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where, a copy of this letter shall be found. Finished."

The story goes that the little child who found it passed it to one who became a convert to the Christian faith. He failed to have the letter published. He kept it however, as a sacred memento of Christ, and it passed down to different generations of his family for more than one thousand years.

During this period the family suffered repeated misfortunes, migrated to different countries until finally one of them came to America, bringing the letter with them. They settled in Virginia, then moved farther south, still followed by misfortune, when finally the last member, a daughter, approached her deathbed and called a neighbor, Mrs. Thompson, giving her the letter and relating its history for more than one thousand years. "The Thompson woman began the attempt to have it published and its first appearance in the Rome, Ga., Tribune on Oct. 31, 1891. It then appeared in Dalton, Ga., Citizen, and Mrs. Wortman, now living in Marion, Ind., clipped it and kept it in her possession for many years without an effort to have it published. She was followed by misfortune which she attributed to her neglect in trying to have it published.

Mrs. Ruby Crutchfield of Trevaunt, Tenn., is said to have had a copy and failed to make an effort to have it published for three years, and was followed by a varied lot of misfortune which she attributed to the fact of her neglect in this respect.

TO SAVE MAPLE TREES

Coal Oil and Soap Solutions the Best Remedy for Pests.

An agricultural journal contains some notes on the maple aphid, which are of interest to people of this city, since many of the maple trees here are infected with the pest. In appearance it is like balls of cotton about the size of shelled peas and is always found on the under side of the limbs. These cotton-like balls are the eggs. They are called pulveraria innumabilis, or innumerable grains of dust, from the appearance and vast multitude. When they hatch out they cover the twigs and suck the sap. Soon the small limbs and leaves begin to shrivel and dwindle and the tree may die.

The best remedy for the aphid, or pulveraria innumabilis, is to spray the trees with coal oil emulsion. It is made by mixing coal oil and soap in the proportion of one half pound of soap to two gallons of oil. After these ingredients are mixed thoroughly ten times as much water is added. This spraying repeated several times will prove a great benefit to the trees.

"The Store of Newark, Ohio, Where Quality Counts."

EXCELLENT PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED FOR THE LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

It has been several years since the union men of Newark have been banded as closely together as they are this year, and they intend to celebrate Labor Day in a manner never before surpassed in the city. For some time past the Labor Day committee has been working night and day on plans looking to this end, and everything is progressing to the satisfaction of all concerned.

It has been planned to have the entire celebration held on the Public Square.

There will be a monster parade in the morning, made up of all the union organizations in the city, together with an industrial exhibit, consisting of floats, etc., by the merchants and manufacturers of the city and already a number of the merchants are designing their floats. It is said that this feature of the celebration will surpass anything of the kind ever held in Central Ohio.

Large crowds are expected from all points within a radius of fifty miles, and it is anticipated that there will be more strangers within our gates on Labor Day than for many years.

Every union organization in the city is taking a deep interest in the matter, and they will vie with each other to see which can make the best showing in the parade. There is perfect unity among all labor organizations in the city and all will gather on that day to have a good time together with every member of their families.

The amusements that will be provided for the occasion will be many and varied. One of the big features will be the high wire walking and performance of Prof. Fred Cunningham of Pennsylvania. This one feature alone cost the committee an even hundred dollars. A wire will be stretched across the street at some point around the Public Square from the top of the highest buildings and on this wire Prof. Cunningham will perform 12 daring and thrilling acts. He will give two performances—one at 1 o'clock and the other at 5 o'clock.

Aside from this there will also be all kinds of contests on the Public Square. A large balloon will be sent up, to which will be attached a tag, a fine prize being given to the person returning the tag. There will be a number of farces, including a ladies' running race, young men's running race, wheelbarrow race, tug of war contest, watermelon eating contest, dressed pole climbing, sack race, guinea flight, three-legged race, potato race for ladies, pie-eating contest, old time fiddlers' contest, and others. There will also be band concerts all day and evening.

During the afternoon the celebrated drill team of Cedar Camp, 4727, Modern Woodmen of America, will give a drill. This team has won a number of handsome prizes in contests all over the country, and our people may expect to see something out of the ordinary in the drill line.

One of the pleasing features in connection with the celebration will be the dance given in A. I. U. hall in the afternoon and evening. The person selling the greatest number of tickets for the dance will be awarded a handsome $5 umbrella, and the next highest will be given a fine $3 hat.

The city council has granted the use of the public square to the union men of the city on Labor Day, and all desiring privileges are requested to make application to Frank Cain.

The Labor Day committee meets every Tuesday night in the office of the clerk of the council. Any information desired regarding the Labor Day celebration may be had by calling on or addressing Charles Roeser, secretary.

"SOUL BROTHER" FORCED TO FLEE FROM CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., July 22.—"Soul Brother" W. Edward Riker and his wife were ordered out of town by Police Prosecutor Baer after complaint had been made that the Rikers planned to start a school to teach young girls the "Absolute Life."

Riker, it is said, had planned the propagation on the faith on a larger scale than did Evelyn Arthur See in Chicago. His creed, boiled down to simple terms for the girl disciples, is: "Do just as you like."

He took up his quarters, with his wife and an infant, at 1722 Euclid avenue, and distributed much literature portraying the beauties of the "Absolute Life."

Riker explained that the difference between his teachings and those of See in Chicago is that See didn't go far enough into the mysteries of the cult.

"If See had understood the 'Absolute Life' thoroughly," said Riker, "he would never have gone to jail. The man that has the 'golden key' that I give you need never bother about right or wrong. There is no such thing as 'good' and 'evil' to holders of keys."

Riker, called before Baer, promised to leave town if the police took no action against him.

THE BIG SHOW TO BE HERE ALL OF SUNDAY

IMMENSE AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISE HAS A VAIN OF REST IN NEWARK.

Elephants Will Get Bath in Owl Creek Sunday Afternoon—Visitors to Tented Grounds Will Be Welcome.

Monday is show day, and John Robinson will give two exhibitions here that for interest, excitement and merit have never been surpassed by any tented amusement enterprise that ever came to town.

A long and interesting program will be offered by an array of talent selected to give such an exhibition of merit as to please everybody. Among the many features are the John Robinson double herd of performing elephants and one big pachyderm actually plays a huge piano while his chorus of elephants dance in both tune and time.

Marguerite, the celebrated New York Hippodrome lion tamer is here with her five educated lions, and Prof. Albers with his eight performing polar bears, both acts taking place in the steel cage arena, offering ample protection to the auditors.

In the three rings and elevated stages and in mid-air will be seen the Great Da Comas, a family of five aerialists, also "Upside Down Smith" Ash Trio, trapeze artists, and the well known Howard family of acrobats, William De Mott and Eunice Stokes famous acrobats, a great double act in the acrobatic English cart-tur by two sets of acrobatic riders, then Daredevil Liniger's slide for life and Warren Travis, strong man furnish enough thrills for half a dozen shows.

Geneva Davis and Tago, the Robettas, Helen Leach and Berry Hicks all at one time, four acts, do the daring tooth swinging act in mid-air, with serpentine dances. This season the thirty clowns have invented and are using more new tricks and stunts to please the multitude than ever seen before.

People like to know what they are going to see and what they are paying for, so the above list of "ring talent" will partly give evidence of a meritorious program. Besides the big show has its own real wild west exhibition, with real Indians, genuine cowboys and girls, also a band of Cossacks whose thrilling rides are a sensation, a company of U. S. cavalry and all accompanied by music of the highest grade from John Robinson's Concert band of thirty-five soloists.

The big show will reach Newark early Sunday morning and go into camp for a day's rest preparatory for the two exhibitions Monday. Only work absolutely necessary is done on Sunday, but visitors will be welcome and shown every attention. The elephants will be given a bath near the showgrounds during the afternoon. The day's enjoyment will begin at 10 o'clock Monday with the grand parade.

THREE GIRLS DROWNED WHILE WADING IN LAKE

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 22.—While wading along the shores of the Maize Lake yesterday afternoon, Helen Wooster, aged 17; Claidius Gould, aged 17, and her sister Lois, aged 15, waded into a deep hole and were drowned.

Viva Bonine, who was with the party, had a narrow escape and is in a serious condition as the result of fright.

The bodies of the girls were soon recovered. They were standing in an upright position in the water and were holding one another tightly in their arms.

Helen Wooster was the daughter of Attorney John Wooster of Dowagiac, and was spending the day at the home of the Gould girls, near the city.

"FOR RENT" SIGNS.

Most households have had the unpleasant experience of looking for "for rent" signs and know how wearisome it is. Most everybody, too, who has tramped the streets, meeting with many disappointments, has learned that there is a better, more effective and much less wearisome way to find just what houses, flats and apartments are for rent by studying the Want Columns. If you are seeking to rent business or residential property, state your requirements in the Want Columns, for thrifty landlords make it a point to keep in close touch with the Want Columns in securing tenants, for they have learned by experience that the most reliable class of tenants are secured as the result of Want Advertising. Clip the list of property for rent and if just the home or business location that you are seeking for is not contained in the list, send a Want Ad of your own that will bring to you replies from which you may select the location that will please you best. The Wants are a guarantee against idle property and an ever-ready reference list for renters. *****
